In continuing with our great tradition, the Sociology graduate students at the State University of New York at Stony Brook are pleased to announce the 10th annual Ethnography conference.

This year’s theme is “Making the Invisible visible.” Ethnography is a method markedly suited for exposing invisibility, elucidating shadows, bringing to light obscurity and making the intangible tangible.

This conference aims to explore under-researched and under-theorized populations. We are particularly interested in understanding:

- Power Structures
- Relationships
- Understudied Groups
- Global Perspectives
- The Sub-altern
- and Privilege

Papers and projects which employ critical and online ethnography, participant observation, life histories, archival research, oral historiography and other similar methods are encouraged to present their original works. While preference will be given to the above listed methods, other works will gladly be considered.

Submission Deadline: January 15, 2014
Please send the title, abstract, and at least 3 key words of your paper to: sbethnographyconference@gmail.com
Full papers will be expected upon acceptance.
